

Walk the Rainbow

Violet

Violet is the last colour we can see at the end of the rainbow.

Beyond it is mystery.

There are lots of things in life that are a mystery, lots of questions.

I wonder what some of your questions are? . . .

You can pick up a ? here and carry it with you if you wish.

Walk the Rainbow

Indigo

On a starry night we can look out to the depths of space.

Our own galaxy - the Milky Way - has 100 billion stars!

One person was looking at the stars and started thinking about himself.

Pick up a mirror and look at yourself.

This man asked God a big question: “Why are people important to you?”

I wonder if you ever ask a question like that? . . .

From space our planet looks like a blue jewel because it is covered in so much water.

Life on earth began in the sea and every plant and creature on Earth needs water to survive, including you.

Blue also reminds us of Mary the mother of Jesus.

Listen to the sound of the fountain
.....imagine you were a thirsty animal,
how good would that sound be?

Dribble some water through your fingers in the bowl .

Pour some water into a beaker then choose either to drink it or water the tree or the plants.

A strong tree gives food for insects and beetles and caterpillars. It gives shelter to birds and squirrels.

You are growing bigger and stronger. I wonder what kind of person you want to grow to be? . .

Nibble a leaf or smell one of the herbs. .

Yellow flowers ... gold coins ... love, patience, goodness ...

I wonder which of these are the most attractive to you?

I wonder which are the most attractive to grown-ups?

Hold a gold coin in one hand and one of the words in the other.

Which one will be most important to you when you grow up?

Look at the picture of the child and the grown-up holding hands.

It seems to say something about the kind of person the grown-up is.

Eat a piece of orange. (Just one, please!)

The Bible says love, goodness and kindness are like 'fruit' - the fruit of the Spirit.

Is this the sort of grown-up you would like to be?

I wonder how you get like that?

Red stands for danger. It also means 'stop'. One day our journey on this earth will come to a stop.

I wonder if death is really the end of our journey. Perhaps the journey goes on beyond the barrier.

When Jesus died on a cross, what happened next?

I wonder what will happen to me?

Use the holographic card to make rainbow colours.

White light is made of all the colours of the rainbow.

I wonder if heaven is all the colours of the rainbow?

What is your biggest question?
Why don't you write it down in the Comment Book and give us something to think about!

I wonder if heaven is where all our questions get answered?
